

Large Number At Chamber Dinner Thursday

A new set of officers are in charge of the Chamber of Commerce. They were introduced Thursday night at the annual banquet. In spite of the 14 degree below zero weather more than 150 persons assembled at the high school cafeteria to enjoy the annual banquet.

O. W. (Bud) Parker, retiring president, was toastmaster, and introduced the program as well as the incoming officers.

W. W. (Bill) Sternberg, the new president, introduced his new board of directors, which includes: James Cole, vice-president; Al Kieselbach, secretary; Clay Cooper, Robert Bellah, Eugene Davis, Dr. Charles Nester, Clark Jarnagin, Cliff Mlinar, and A. B. Holt, executive secretary.

Miss Ruth Cross, Dean of Women of West Texas State, was presented the award of the Chamber for outstanding work in the community during the past year.

The audience was called upon to pay respect to a departed fellow-townsmen, Dr. S. H. Condron, who has served in so many public capacities in the city. A minute of silent prayer followed.

Mr. Parker outlined the accomplishments of the Chamber during the past year.

Music was furnished by the College Brass Quartet composed of William O. Latson, Byron Aubrey, Russell Clements, Tubal Cain.

The committee of arrangements was composed of Cliff Mlinar and H. R. Fulton, Jr., with J. A. Young furnishing the table linens for the occasion.

Bob Wear, minister of the Church of Christ of Hereford, made a hit with the audience in his discussion of the subject: "Freedom Is Not Free."

The speaker called attention to the fact that America's way of life was not just an accident, but was developed through a long period of time during which men fought, bled and died for the principles which has made America great.

"It will cost a large amount of money, and many men will bleed and die to preserve this nation," declared the speaker.

Attention was called to the responsibilities which go with a republic which offers so much to its people. There has been conflict after conflict, yet less than 50 percent of the qualified voters of America went to the polls in the last general election, and usually a handful of voters go to the polls in local elections.

"Freedom cannot be enjoyed or maintained without an effort on our part," stated Mr. Wear.

Abraham Lincoln was not a defeatist when he spoke his immortal words at Gettysburg, and called for a united nation.

Too many folks are asking for a government "for the people." Every handout from Washington is a step for strangulation on the part of the federal government. Today we, the citizens, have a real problem on our hands to bring the government back to the people for which it was established.

Communism is a threat to our way of life. "Why should we send our boys to Korea to fight Communism while we allow the commies to continue their work in America, speaking openly against our government, and working for its destruction? If I had my way, we would herd the whole bunch on a ship and send them back to Russia, which they profess to love so much," declared the speaker amid a large burst of applause.

The speaker declared that America has no place for a state religion, which a minority group is attempting to impose on the people.

Good men are not ruined by holding public office, and more should be induced to run for public office.

"Our way of life is worth all that it has cost," declared the speaker. We have a right to continue in our way of life, because it is based on truth and justice.

Recreation Program of Canyon Praised

Kelly McGehee, chairman of the Boys and Girls Committee, presented the program at the weekly meeting of the Canyon Lions Club Wednesday. Elmer Wooten introduced the speaker, Jack Hans, recreational director for the Amarillo Parks Commission.

Canyon was highly complimented for the work being done here under the direction of Cecil Massey. Canyon is one of the smaller towns with such a program, and the speaker urged that it be encouraged and continued.

Visitors were: B. B. Williams, Amarillo; Floyd Murry, Miss Jane Darland, Delbert Lowes, A. G. Kieselbach, Canyon.

New members welcomed into the club were: Bill Money and Kenneth Clark.

Pfc. Jerry Johnigan left Monday morning for Camp Pendleton, Calif., where he will serve with the motor transport division, after having spent his leave in the parental J. C. Johnigan home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Brandt spent the week-end in Hart visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Bearden.

More snow fell to the north, but the rain was a little heavier in this vicinity and to the south, making a slight difference in the amount of moisture.

More Interest Shown in Poll Tax Payments

Poll tax payments in Randall county took on sudden interest following the announcement last week of proposed constitutional amendments to be submitted this year.

Bill Money, tax collector, announced Tuesday that a total of 2595 receipts had been issued. This is a good percentage in comparison with the total of 3250 receipts issued in 1950.

The receipts do not include exemptions issued, or those who are over age and do not require exemptions.

Mr. Money stated that he had not compared the number of receipts issued between Canyon and the South Amarillo office, but it looked from the pile of receipts that the number was about equal.

Funeral of Dr. S. H. Condron Held Friday

Dr. Stuart H. Condron died Wednesday night at 6:40 o'clock at the Neblett Hospital where he had been under treatment for several weeks. He has been in failing health for the past year and on December 31, 1950, resigned his position as head of the Department of Government of West Texas State College.

Dr. Condron was 61 years, 9 months and 8 days of age. He moved to Canyon in 1927 to take a position in the college after he had been Dean of the old Clarendon College during its ownership of the Methodist Church. Former students, now pastors of important Methodist Churches, and business men throughout the Panhandle received their training and inspiration for their work under his guidance, both in Clarendon and in Canyon.

Dr. Condron was very active in local affairs throughout the 24 years that he has lived in Canyon. He has served as a member of the City Commission; president of the Rotary Club; director of the Chamber of Commerce; and executive in Boy Scout work as well as active in his church. He had been a Sunday School teacher since his arrival in Canyon, and had served the church in many capacities. He had attended annual conferences of the church and was well known to all of the pastors throughout the conference. Because of his diligence in his church work he represented the conference in the General Conference of the church, and was active in the successful union of the three branches into the Methodist Church.

He resigned his position with the college only after it was evident that he could not continue to live. He was seemingly improved until he fell by his bed a few days previous to his death. He was not injured in the fall, but never recovered from the shock.

Dr. Hill spoke feelingly of his long association with Dr. Condron and the Godly principles which directed his life and his work. As an educator of great ability and a teacher of sound doctrines, Dr. Condron had influenced the lives of thousands of young people who live a richer life today because of this association.

Survivors are the widow, Mrs. Mary Condron; one son, Stuart Condron, Jr., of Dawn; Miss Marilyn Condron, a student in West Texas State; four grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Frank Bourland of Clarendon; one brother, Elmo Condron of Austin.

Gas Line Gets Water; Business Section Suffers

Business houses on the north side of the square experienced an unusual situation Thursday and Friday when the gas meters froze up, due to the presence of water in the gas mains.

A crew of experts was rushed here from Amarillo and Lubbock, and Tige McLaury brought his service crew from Plainview. Practically the entire line from Cooper's to the Lindsey Motor Co. was replaced.

The trouble was found Monday when a water line adjoining the gas line was found to be leaking. Both lines had corroded and eaten through, allowing water to seep into the gas line.

Moderation of the temperature Friday night kept the gas meters from freezing again.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Lowry visited friends in Tulia Sunday afternoon.

The Great White Father Has Become the Great Spender

The American Indian once referred to the president of the United States as the "Great White Father."

Today the president may be referred to as the "great white spender." If President Truman has his way about it, we will out-spend the wasteful Roosevelt administration. But there is a vast difference in the way money is being spent today than 16 years ago.

Roosevelt was trying to hedge against a depression which gripped the entire world. If the government had not spent money—sometimes wasting money—the nation would have been sunk by the depression. Then came the war when there was national need for great spending. No doubt a lot of the money was wasted. All war is a waste—a terrible waste, and the best waste is usually the ultimate winner.

Today we are threatened with another foe—the man in the White House is attempting to make this foe a maximum threat. This in spite of the fact that there are many Americans who question the strength of that foe, and question the ability of that foe to ever be a serious threat to this nation from the standpoint of war. Nevertheless the threat is still eminent, and no one is going to object to spending money to stop that foe. Furthermore, few loyal Americans are going to say "no" to the theory that lives must be spent, blood spilt, and men killed on the battle field to stop this foe. Perhaps there are more men crying out for an all-out war than there are who decry the needless waste which accompanies war.

The difficulty in Washington today is the fact that while we are spending, wasting, so to speak, no one seems to know why we are spending and wasting and no one has a clear cut picture of what lies beyond us.

We thought that when the new congress took over that we should get a definite picture. The confusion still exists. The White House is trying all kinds of experiments. Rather than a "great white father" leading his nation, we have a confused white father in the White House, who holds to a lot of his pet theories of spending, regardless of the fate of the nation in months and years which are ahead.

Cut out the frills, Mr. President, cry the people, and get down to sound leadership and the people will go with you. Otherwise you cannot possibly win in 1952 if backed by a confused and divided leadership on vital problems.

Redistrict Bills Making Good Progress in the Legislature

Last week we predicted that redistricting the State of Texas was going to be no picnic. According to advice from Austin the prediction is true. Not only are the representatives from East Texas fighting to hold all of the territory possible, but some West Texas counties are attempting to get the advantage.

The census will give Lubbock county a bigger population than Potter county. The boys from the South Plains are therefore demanding that they get more representation in the legislature than is awarded to Potter county. They are seeking two State Representatives and a flatorial district which would include Lubbock and other counties.

The authors of the redistricting bills are attempting to eliminate these ungodly flatorial districts. We did not get to see Harley Sadler while in Austin to thank him for his work on this measure, but we did talk with our own Morris Cobb of Potter county, who is working with Sadler in attempting to pass an equitable and just redistricting bill.

So far as the senatorial redistricting is concerned, there seems to be a choice for Randall county between being left in the Amarillo district, or transferred to a new Plainview district. Since Senator Grady Hazlewood is a Randall county product and can stay in the Senate for another term if he will accept, we feel personally that we should stay in the Amarillo district. We have no objection to being in the district with Plainview, but we are very anxious to hold Senator Hazlewood in the senate, if he will accept again.

Valentine Day Is Another Day for Gifts to Those We Love

The shortest month of the year has as many important days as any month in the year.

The birthdays of Edison, Lincoln, Washington, come during this month.

Valentine Day is another day which is set aside for the up-building of our citizenship. It is another "gift day."

Perhaps the cynic will say that we have too many such days already. The cynic refuses to consider others, or to remember any other person than himself. He is the self centered person, without a thought for others.

Valentine Day is not only a day of distributing gifts among those whom we love, but likewise among those whom we hold in the highest esteem.

Let's observe the day.

Advertising is praised by good business men who ought to know what they say is the truth. Those who say advertising doesn't pay have little experience with its power.

Some one might be able to tell us which is the biggest public nuisance: the people who take themselves too seriously or those who take themselves too lightly.

We believe that every citizen should whenever possible, trade at home. When you can't buy what you want here, buy it as close home as possible.

Practically everybody that we have heard talk has at least half a dozen remedies for the present disorder of world conditions.

Just for your information: All remarks in these paragraphs are about fictitious persons and are written merely to fill up space.

If all the speeches made between now and the end of the school term were laid end to end, there would be too many.

Those who want the Government out of business do not object to subsidies to ships and airlines that carry the mail.

The man who borrows his neighbor's copy of The Canyon News knows a good thing when he can read it.

Counting Noses for Vote to Rid Texas of Liquor Evils

A serious job of counting noses is going on in Texas today. It has been going on for some time, but few people realized just what is going on.

We refer to the proposed constitutional amendment to prohibit the sale of liquor in Texas. Political observers around Austin are convinced that such an amendment would be approved by a majority of the members if presented to the legislature. However, the amendment might fail unless it is determined that the psychology behind the measure is right and proper.

The situation is simply this: The wets will cry to high heaven that the people are being imposed upon and that advantage is being taken of the boys from Texas who are in uniform if the amendment is presented this year. Such an amendment might have a better chance for passage if the submission date is set for next year.

While there has been too little said prior to the closing date for poll tax payments regarding the possibility of such an amendment, the job of counting noses goes on among the dry leaders.

While the publisher of The Canyon News has always been dry, both politically and in practice, we have never been foolish on the subject. We do not wish to see the state rush into something which it could not make effective.

Here is the situation: Why submit a subject which is so grossly unpopular that it would be rejected by the people at the polls? We believe that it is better to wait for favorable public opinion than to rush into certain defeat.

While in Austin we attended a reception given by Governor and Mrs. Shivers at the Mansion. The first thing that was handed the visitors was a cocktail, strong with liquor. We are happy to say that not all of the visiting newspaper men and women took the drink.

We believe that the Governor made a serious mistake in offering liquor to his visitors. Orange juice, a healthful Texas product, could have been substituted, with no offense to any person in the crowd. The Governor is Governor of all people of Texas. There are plenty of persons, even in the newspaper fraternity, who resent seeing the head of a great state like Texas catering to the liquor interests, by offering liquor to his guests when a healthful drink could have been substituted without offense to any person.

We are not a prude in any sense of the word.

Yes, It's Cold on the Plains But Likewise Cold Elsewhere

Where are the folks who said a few years ago that there had been a change in Panhandle weather and that we would never have the cold of yesteryears?

We have no urge for cold weather. In fact we hate this kind of weather, but there is nothing that we can do about it.

In spite of cold weather which makes it difficult for folks to work or to get around, we do not have crops to lose by the millions of dollars. Our friends in South Texas and along the coast are experiencing much worse conditions than Panhandle people. However, let it be remembered that we shall pay for this cold wave in the form of advanced prices on vegetables which usually are on sale during the early spring.

It's cold here in the Panhandle, just like it is cold elsewhere in the nation.

Palo Duro Park Scores Great Victory in Road Construction

The Panhandle scored another victory in Austin during the past week when the State Highway Commission awarded a contract to pave the road in the Palo Duro State Park.

It was not an easy victory. Senator Grady Hazlewood stood by the Park and in standing for the paving, performed another great service to the Panhandle.

No one ever questioned the necessity of the road. Perhaps the contract is a little high, but let it be remembered that this road is no ordinary road. The construction is technical, over rough terrain. The landscape will be wonderful when the road is completed.

Let's all get busy and plan for the biggest event that has ever been pulled off in the Palo Duro when the road is completed. Folks from all over this area should be on hand to ride down the new pavement when the road is completed. Instead of getting their gizzards thoroughly jolted from the ride, they will view with pleasure the beauties of the landscape.

Watch for the opening date and be on hand!

Building Men Is Objective of the Boy Scout Movement

Boys are the stuff of which our civilization of tomorrow is being made.

When the Boy Scout movement was started 41 years ago, it was idealistic in ambitions, but practical in performance.

Boys like to do things; like to accomplish something worth while. Boys have ambitions, whether it be to fly a kite; shoot a gun; drive a car; or go swimming.

The Boy Scout movement offers an outlet to these ambitions. It is said that there would be twice as many Boy Scouts in America today as there are—if there were enough men who had not forgotten their youthful ambitions, and wanted to be leaders of boys instead of directors of men.

The boys of today will be the men of tomorrow—the kind of men which we will them to be today.

Selfishness never built a town into a city. Let all the people in Canyon pull together unselfishly and we will be on the road to progress.

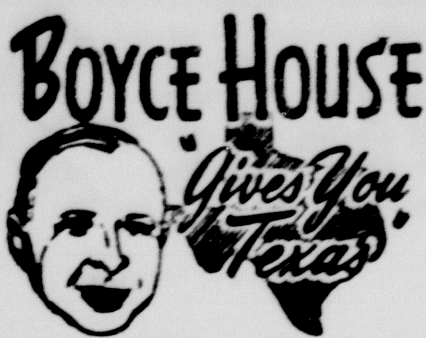

We will have better law enforcement in this country when citizens generally are more willing to obey the law than themselves.

People who hold public office sometimes forget that they are supposed to represent all of the people, not just a few.

The trouble with politics today is not politics, but calculating men who use politics for their own selfish ends.

Add foolish sights: A man trying to capture the empty honors of the world and overlooking his own family.

It rarely ever pays to buy things too cheaply. Such purchases usually prove to be anything but bargains.

The Colonel, writing in the Taft Tribune several years back, gave a verbatim account of what he says were the questions and answers when a lady applied for a driver's license:

How old are you?

Over 18.

What is the first rule of the road?

Watch out for motor cops.

What is the second rule of the road?

Don't let anything run into you or past you?

What would you do if the steering gear broke?

Drive to the nearest garage and have it fixed.

What would you do if the battery runs out?

Try to put it back.

What is the accelerator?

The name of something you put your foot on that has something to do with something inside the car.

What is the charging indicator?

The bill you get from the garage.

What is meant by "short circuit"?

Going somewhere by the shortest way.

What furnishes the motive power of the car?

My husband.

Some years ago when your columnist visited the high school at Gordon, in Palo Pinto County, Supt. Tanksley told me of a ghost town, about six miles away—Coalville.

About 50 years ago, coal mining flourished around Thurber, Mingus, Lyra and Strawn.

Several mines were worked near Coalville. The town had a population of 3,000 and there were progressive stores, as well as several saloons. The school enrollment was around 350. But the mining ended, the school district was consolidated with the Gordon district and there is no sign of the once flourishing town. In fact, Coalville's site is part of a farm, and cattle graze on the once teaming spot.

NO TRAVEL CURB

No plans to curtail or allocate civilian travel are being made by the Government at this time, according to Director K. Knudson, of the Defense Transportation Administration, who declares that the country has the best transportation system it has ever had in a national emergency.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Here was a man to hold against the world
A man to match the mountains and the sea
The color of the ground was in him, the red earth,
The smack and tang of elemental things
And when he fell in whirlwind, he went down
As when a lordly cedar, green with boughs,
Goes down with a great shout upon the hills
And leaves a lonesome place against the sky.

— EDWIN MARKHAM

POINTS OF SIMILARITY

Dentist: No. I used to be a steel riveter but I got too shaky to work on high buildings and bridges.

Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Chief of Staff, U. S. Air Force: "We don't go backwards in the Air Force, we are just getting better and better."

J. Howard McGrath, U. S. Attorney-General: "We have the Communist fifth column well under control."

WACS

The Woman's Army Corps is appealing for enlistees to bring it up to its authorized strength of 30,000. Enlistees must be single and without dependents and must have a high school diploma or be able to pass a high school equivalency test. They must also be between the ages of 18 and 34.

EN ROUTE

Minister: Don't you ever attend a place of worship?

Youth: Yes, sir, and I'm on my way to her house now.

Hu Shih, former Chinese Nationalist Ambassador to the U. S.: "The Chinese people as a whole are pro-democratic, pro-American and pro-Western."

Mayor Klein Gave Views on Coming of Army Air Corps

Canyon will profit by the great influx of people being brought to Amarillo by opening of the Army Air Field and Pantex stated Mayor Klein Tuesday to the Rotary Club.

Housing shortage will be the major problem of this area when 27,000 men are transferred to the base, together with 10,000 workers on the two projects.

The army is vitally interested in the welfare of the young men. Problems will confront this area: Police, health, utilities.

This new army is composed of kids, 5 or 6 years younger than the men of World War II. None are professional soldiers. The community has an obligation toward the boys, and their parents, to maintain a wholesome influence.

The following suggestions were made: Control gambling and liquor; open USO centers; encourage church attendance; open homes to the boys; write to their parents; give them clean entertainment; improve library facilities; see that school arrangements are offered; hold rents to the lowest level and see to it that there are enough rent houses.

These boys will be sent here to do a job; let's not interfere with their jobs, but make friends of them.

Visitors were: Lowell Munday, J. H. Yeary, E. Kancher, Forrest Barnes, J. E. Hill, A. G. Attebury, Chas. H. Young, Ralph Ater, all of Amarillo; Mayor Andy Walsh and Judge Burney Slack of Canyon; L. A. Jackson of Cheyenne, Wyoming.

Mrs. Clara Coffman of Springfield, Mo., who has spent the last week in the home of her sister, Mrs. W. I. Wester, left Monday to return to her home.

Mrs. O. J. Bales and children returned Saturday from Clovis, where they spent two weeks at the bedside of her brother who was injured in an automobile accident.

Harry Campfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Campfield, who is stationed at Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls, spent the week-end with his parents.

Mrs. Jesse Anderson of Amarillo visited in the home of her mother Mrs. Henry Meyer Sunday.

MEAT HOARDING

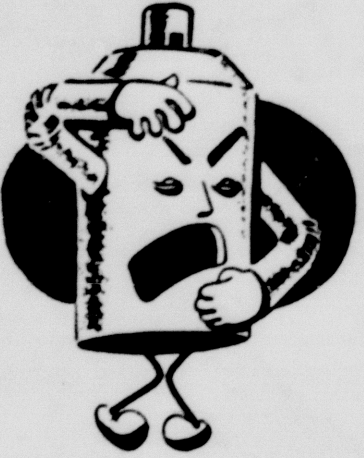

Agricultural Department officials estimate that upward of one billion pounds of meat are stored away in family freeze units and lockers in anticipation of rationing—a quantity about equal to a two weeks' supply for the entire nation. If rationing is ordered, consumers undoubtedly will be required to state in their applications for ration cards how much meat they have on hand, with consequent deductions from their ration allowances.

U. S. OFFICE SPACE

Floor space occupied by the extension branch of the Government is more than 96 times that in New York's 102-story Empire State Building, according to Senator Byrd's committee—a joint-Senate-House group on reduction of non-essential Federal expenditures. The Government, before the start of the Korean war was spending more than $100,000,000 a year for rent and utilities, while the military spent another $90,000,000.

U. S. WHEAT

American wheat is being sold abroad at controlled prices, according to government officials, who point out that eligible foreign buyers are gobbling up large quantities of the grain at a top price of $1.80 a bushel, which is nearly 75 cents a bushel less than domestic users are paying. Foreign sales, however, are made under an international wheat agreement, put into effect in 1949, under which major exporting countries agree to sell a certain amount of wheat at not more than $1.80 a bushel.

AIR FORCE RESERVES

The Air Force is immediately calling up "a major portion" of the Air Reserve and the Air National Guard and large numbers of volunteer air reservists. The call involves about 150,000 men and is designed to increase Air Force manpower to 971,000 as soon as possible.

FLU EPIDEMIC

Dr. Gaylord W. Anderson, of the American Public Health Association, predicts that the influenza epidemic, now sweeping parts of Europe and England, will spread to the United States. The doctor said there have been six or eight worldwide flu epidemics since the big one in 1918 and the world "is just about due for another one."

Rats, Like People, Take to Drink When Emotionally Upset

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — Marquette University students recently conducted an experiment to determine whether animals would turn to alcohol is emotionally upset. They will, the student concluded when the experiment was completed.

The students took a dozen white rats and separated them into four groups. One group lived a normal life—for a rat in captivity—and was given a regular diet of water and food. A second group also was given normal food, with a free choice of water or a solution containing 6 per cent alcohol. This group barely touched the alcohol. The two groups came out of the experiment about the same, with their fur smooth and their reactions normal.

Life was more complicated for the other two groups. One received an adequate supply of food but got only the alcohol solution for drink. The fourth group was kept hungry much of the time but had a choice of water or the alcohol solution for drink.

The fur of the last two groups became fuzzy, due, the students and instructor concluded, to the use of alcohol. Both groups were nervous but the fourth group also was highly irritable. That rats in the fourth group rose up on their hind feet and assumed a fighting stance whenever anyone came around. They snapped at visitors who opened their pens. Although they had the option of drinking water or the alcohol solution, they consumed more of the alcohol than the water.

The students concluded that the rats in the fourth group, frustrated in their desire for more food, turned to the alcohol "to relieve anxiety and feel relaxed."

Dr. Joachim J. La Malfa, who directed the students in the experiment, said: "The experiment indicates that animals, like human beings, become irritable when emotionally upset and may turn to alcohol as an escape."

Old Blind Justice a Bit Dumb, Judge Discovers

FLINT, MICH.—The municipal court judge was shocked when the jury returned a verdict of "acquittal" for 10 men charged with gambling.

The judge asked one juror if he had noted "not guilty."

"Heck no, your honor, we voted for acquittal," the juror explained.

The jurors were told that "acquittal" meant "not guilty."

They retired to the jury room, elected a new foreman and brought in a guilty verdict.

British Pint, Local Pub Victim of Welfare State

LONDON, England—"The local", the intimate little bars scattered over England, are on the way out. Beer was the favorite drink served at "the local", but beer drinking is on a sharp decline in England these days. In fact, beer production is now lower than at any time in the last 15 years.

The sad truth is that beer has been its own worst enemy. So popular was it with almost everyone in the country that postwar chancellors of the exchequer saw in it a sure-fire way to help finance the welfare state.

This year's national budget alone has skimmed from the nation's beer drinking roughly 267 million pounds (747.6 million dollars).

This tax money has helped carry out the welfare state program of health services, pensions and shorter hours. As a result of the increased leisure time, Britons are going to more movies and plays, visits in the country, and forgetting about "the local".

As a result beer consumption has dropped from 32 to 27 million barrels a year. If it continues to decline many of "the locals" will be out of business.

Moose Wrecks Reckoning Of Air Force Navigators

FAIRBANKS, Alaska — A 1,000 pound moose wrecked the reckoning of four air force navigators. Wind, clouds and the midnight sun have proved no handicapped on their flights to the north pole. But the moose—that's another story.

The four officers were hitting a 40 mile an hour clip in an automobile about 30 miles north of Fairbanks when the moose ambled onto the road. The net result: One damaged car, four scratched officers, one moose with a broken leg.

Air force military police shot the moose, dressed the meat and sent it to Fort Yukon natives.

No Ferry Moves Over River Styx; Charon Has Retired

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — Motorists are puzzled by a sign which marks a bridge between Baldwin county, Ala., and Escambia county, Fla.

The highway at that point crosses the river Styx. The sign that marks the bridge reads—"Charon retired." Charon was the ferryman who operated the ferry across the black waters of the underworld into the infernal regions, according to Greek mythology.

A scholar in the Alabama highway department painted the sign to indicate there was no ferry across the river Styx.

New York Publishers Accept Fifth Composition by H. Bright

Houston Bright, assistant professor of music at West Texas, has been notified that another of his most recent compositions, "The Quatrains from the Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam," has been accepted for publication by the Associated Music Publishers of New York.

The piece is currently in the repertoire of the Oklahoma University A Cappella Choir.

Bright previously has had two other works published by the same New York company and two others are being prepared for publication. Those already released are A Cappella pieces entitled "Weep You No More Sad Fountain," and "Evening Song of the Weary." Both are now on the contest list of the Inter-scholastic League for high school choirs.

One composition now being prepared is "Lament of the Enchantress," and will be released sometime during the fall months. The other number, also scheduled for publication in the fall, is "Two Short Pieces for Brass Quartet," and already is included in the repertoire of the University of Texas Faculty Brass Quartet.

The Galaxy Music Company has also published one of Bright's works, entitled "High Tide," for men's choruses.

Bright received a BS in music and an MA in Education from WT. He has completed all residence work toward his PhD in musicology at the University of Southern California and is now writing his dissertation.

He has also written "Symphonic Dance," to be played by the Amarillo Symphony, under the direction of A. Clyde Roller, in April.

French Youths Discover Museum Of Cave Man Art

BORDEAUX, France—A dog fell down a hole and as a result France has a museum of cave man art estimated at 20 to 30 thousand years old.

Four French youths were out hunting rabbits one September day in 1940 with their dog Robot. Suddenly Robot disappeared.

The boys heard barking from beneath a small hole covered with bushes. They enlarged the hole and the oldest youth scrambled down to rescue the dog. Lighting matches, he saw a long corridor ahead.

On the following day the boys went exploring. Entering the long forgotten corridor, the boys edged along a ridge of fallen earth until they reached a cave some 50 feet below ground.

By their flickering lights, the youths made out an array of paintings in red and black on their whitish stone walls—an immense group of fantastic animals.

Fantastic Animals

They reported their findings to their schoolmaster and he investigated. A few hours later he excitedly telegraphed the noted French pre-historian Abbe Henri Breuil in Paris and soon the great discovery was known to the world. It is the now famous Lascaux cave.

After World War II the 500 paintings were photographed and examined by experts. And the cave has become a French government museum guarded by huge steel and stone doors.

The pictures of lifelike animals were drawn with natural indelible colors of ochre and oxide of manganese. They were preserved through the ages by the dryness of the cave.

The oldest one dates back an estimated 30,000 years. Some are marred by other works superimposed 15,000 years or so later.

Arrows pierce the hides of many of the animals. Some of the strange creatures seem to have wandered out of a nightmare. One hybrid monster sprouts two horns from its forehead. Its bloated belly is spotted like a leopard.

Painting on Painting

A reddish stallion, his body shaded to indicate a third dimension, has been chasing his mate for at least 15,000 years. Other wild horses, some bearing a distinct likeness to the Shetland pony, gallop across the wall in full stampede. One unlucky horse is pictured toppling over a precipice, its forelegs thrashing the air.

A humpbacked bison, its entrails dragging in the dust and seven arrows sticking in its flanks, charges a badly gored hunter. Two other bison hurry away in fright. Nearby is a bird perched on a curious totem pole.

A giant black bull 18 feet long is the largest single painting. Partly obscured by galloping horses drawn thousands of years later, the beast appears to be reaching toward a tuft of grass.

All in all, scientists insist, this menagerie of fantastic animals is the finest and best preserved gallery of prehistoric art ever found. It indicates that long before man learned to write, he had an itch to paint pictures and brag about his hunting skill.

Relations Firm Offers New Service For Politicians

NEW YORK, N. Y.—A New York public relations firm is offering a new service—"packaged political campaigns" for candidates running for local offices.

In case you are thinking of running for office, the firm said it would advise clients on:

The best radio and television stations in their area.

The best newspapers to use for political advertising.

Their personality type and the media best suited to show it off to the voters.

Outstanding political issues, both local and national.

The efficiency of direct mail and leaflet campaigns and the availability of poster space.

The company also proposed to help work out advance reservations for desirable radio and TV time and "plan the most effective use of these facilities."

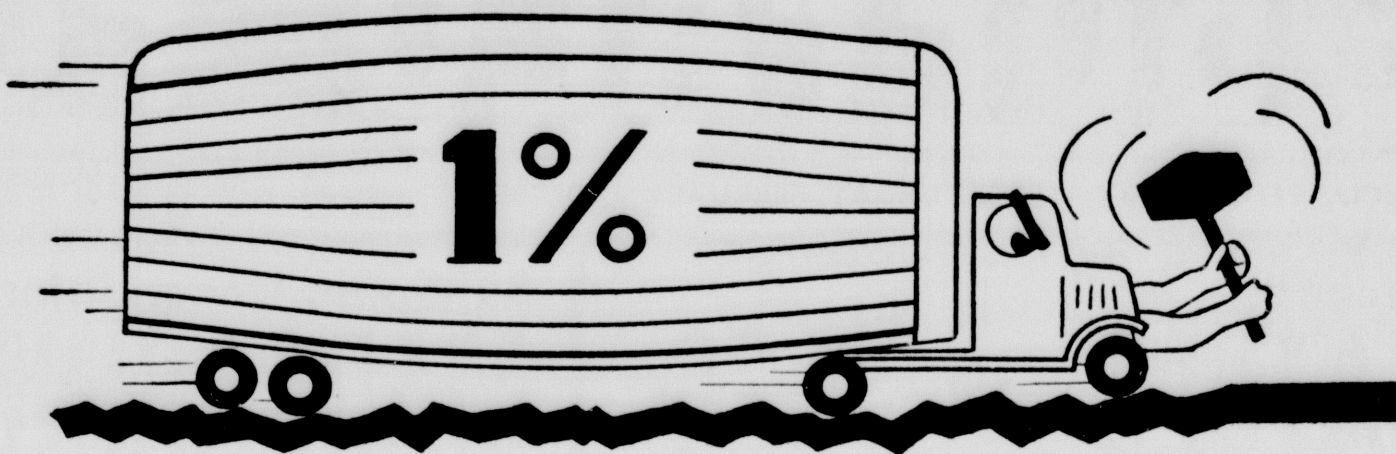

Movie Managers Take Course In How to be a Gentleman

LONDON, Eng.—J. Arthur Rank, British movie mogul, is determined to turn his cinema managers into perfect gentlemen.

Starting from the bottom—in the boiler room—24 fledgling managers are learning the niceties of separating the customers from their shillings graciously in a suburban Rank movie house that has been turned into a combination school and dormitory.

It's a 24-week course. Besides learning how to stoke a boiler and keep a theater at a comfortable temperature, embryo managers will have a crack at polishing windows, vacuuming the carpets, peddling ice cream speedily during intermissions so that it gets to the customer before it starts melting; and handling an usherette's torch so that it doesn't flash in the eyes of the patrons.

The More He BREAKS The More He MAKES

Texas motorists, Texas highways and Texas taxpayers should be protected against the ONE PER CENTERS.

ONE PER CENTERS are truck combinations weighing, loaded, 20,000 pounds or more. Only one of every 100 vehicles registered in Texas pays a license fee for 20,000 pounds or more. FEWER than three out of every 1,000 are registered for more than 40,000 pounds.*

Our highways should be SAFE for ALL the people—individuals, commercial users and the military alike.

Texas highway tax dollars should be conserved and used wisely. This can be done

- (1) by limiting the weight (gross load and axle load) that may be transported legally by the ONE PER CENTERS and
- (2) by enforcing the law against those who persist in overloading.

*"The Case of The One Per Centers," an article in The Texas Tax Journal, July-August, 1950

Texas highways are paid for by and belong to ALL THE PEOPLE. Highways adequate for 99% of Texas users—individual and commercial—can be constructed and maintained for about ONE-THIRD of the cost made necessary by the weight of the ONE PER CENTERS.*

This is your problem. Send for your copy of the booklet, "THE CASE OF THE ONE PER CENTERS," which tells you, among other things, why

THE MORE PAVEMENT HE BREAKS,
THE MORE PROFIT HE MAKES.

Guy Brant and Jaunita Wells Wed at Odessa

In a candlelight ceremony read at 8 p. m. Jan. 27, in the First Baptist Church of Odessa, Jaunita Wells of Odessa became the bride of Guy Brant. Rev. Arthur LeLoch, pastor, was officiant for the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of J. Y. Wells of 2316 N. Tom Green Avenue, Odessa, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Brant of 1706 Park Boulevard. The Brants are former Canyon residents.

Wedding music was given by Mrs. Ashley Lawson, organist, who accompanied Richard Callaway, vocalist, who sang "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," "Because," and as a benediction "Bless This House." Mrs. Lawson also played prelude music.

Standing before an archway of emerald greenery, flanked by baskets of white gladioli and candelabras holding cathedral candles, the couple repeated vows before a large group of friends and relatives. The bride was radiant in a traditional gown of white satin, fashioned floor length over hoops. The fitted bodice was designed with a net yoke. She wore long satin gloves and a strand of pearls. Her finger-tip veil, edged in lace, fell from a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible holding gardenias and showered with white satin ribbons.

Maid-of-honor Mrs. Mary Stout, the bride's sister of Abilene wore an aqua satin with fitted basque and overskirt of net. Bridesmaid Joyce Brant, sister of the groom, wore an identical gown of orchid. Both wore halos of yellow carnations and carried nosegays of yellow carnations. Marvin Fite of Canyon, was best man to the bridegroom.

Bob Jackson was groomsmen and candlelighters were Lester Vaughn, Bob Colin and Herbert Stout of Abilene. They also ushered.

Gerry Boothe presided at the guest book. She wore a pink organdy gown and white carnations.

After a short wedding trip the couple is at home at 704 N. Belmont. The bride is employed with Phillips Petroleum and the bridegroom is an employee of Black, Sivalls and Bryson, Inc.

The banquet for the young people on Friday night was discussed and the Auxiliary was asked to help with it.

Refreshments of a salad course with wafers, coffee and orange juice were served by the hostess.

Refreshments of heart shaped sandwiches, cookies and nuts were served from the serving table laid with a white lace cloth. The centerpiece of red carnations, red ribbon and maline on styrafoam was heart-shaped to carry out the Valentine theme. Mrs. Leake poured.

Mesdames Jerry Newman, Alfred Bellah, Jack Haley and L. E. Gum served as the refreshment committee.

ALASKAN CONSTRUCTION

A public works construction program in Alaska for the current fiscal year will cost around $1,992,750, according to Secretary of the Interior Chapman. A major share of the amount will go to construct and equip a five-story office building in Juneau.

A basic study of Russian tactics, made for the U. S. military officials, was filed for future reference at about the time war in Korea broke out. U. S. generals then were surprised when the North Koreans used the exact tactics of infiltration, disguise and movement in small groups that the study emphasized would be used by Communists in case of combat with U. S. forces.

Russia's Joseph Stalin, inadvertently, is signaling the presence of trouble inside his police state. An official edict, dated Nov. 16, 1950 announces a new medal to go to police for "bravery and self-sacrifice in liquidating bandit-robber groups" and for skillful organization of work of the militia in "maintaining public order." Apparently it is not quiet behind the Iron Curtain.

India's Pandit Nehru, in the opinion of U. S. diplomats, is maneuvering to make it appear that the United States and not Communist China is the aggressor in Korea. Nehru and his large following in the British Empire are willing to pay a high price for promise of a ceasefire and want U. S. with 50,000 casualties, to take the blame for the war.

The Legislature seems to be economy-minded, but at the same time it may look with favor on an investment that is intended to help the veterans and to pay some return to the state.

You will be reading about the veterans' land program, which started off with a capital of $25,000,000.

All of this money is now working. It has been used to buy land for veterans. The state finances purchase of this land up to $7,125. The veteran pays five per cent of the purchase price down. He has 40 years to pay off the debt. The interest rate is three per cent.

At this session, the land board is asking for a constitutional amendment to authorize sale of $75,000,000 more in state bonds for further financing of land buying by veterans.

The proposal passed its first hurdle last week when the House of Representatives committee on constitutional amendments approved the measure unanimously.

Land Commissioner Bascom Giles originated the program.

He reported to the House committee that more than 4,000 veterans had purchased tracts at an average cost of $6,000—or about $54 an acre including improvements—and that the veterans had saved money in costs accompanying these transactions.

He explained that ordinarily, in an individual real estate transaction, the purchaser pays about $150 in closing costs—examination of title, filing of papers, and so on.

In the veterans program, the purchaser sent in $50, and that was the only cost of the transaction to him.

"A saving of $400,000 to the Texas veterans of World War II is an accomplishment that we are proud of," said Giles.

The program was originally designed to last for eight years, but the entire capital was committed in less than 18 months.

"And yet," Giles said, "we did not accommodate all applicants. We were out of money. I predict that we will have enough applicants by the time the money is available to use up this additional $75,000,000."

Giles proposed the program under unusual circumstances—in an address before a joint session of the legislature, which means a session where both House and Senate meet together.

The original constitutional amendment was adopted by Texas voters in a special election.

Laws which govern the program were passed by the Legislature and signed by Governor Beauford Jester in June, 1949.

The amendment which is now proposed will authorize the veterans land board, of which Giles is chairman, to sell $75,000,000 in state bonds. Other members of the board are Governor Allan Shivers and Attorney General Price Daniel.

The original $25,000,000 in bonds sold at an average interest rate of less than 1.75 per cent. Giles said that the program can thus well afford to buy land for cash and resell to veterans at three per cent interest and five per cent down payment, with 40 years to pay off the note.

"This is not a proposal to spend $75,000,000," Giles said.

"It is a sound feasible investment in the future of many young Texans."

"It is not a dole or a bonus, but an opportunity."

President Truman is fixing it so that businessmen and Republicans in top jobs will hold responsibility for controlling prices, wages and salaries in the period ahead. The President wants to make sure that voters in 1952 can't blame Democrats for the irritations that grow out of regimentation by Government.

John W. Snyder, Treasury Secretary, overrode the Federal Reserve Board when he announced flatly that the long-term interest rate on Government bonds would be held at 2.5 per cent. Secretary Snyder is completely unconvinced that modest rises in rates of interest have any discouraging effect on inflation forces.

Mail to Congress is shifting away from the "get Acheson" line to a series of new lines: (1) Pull out of Korea; (2) turn Chiang loose on the Communists; (3) stop Britain from selling war supplies to Russia; (4) stop price rises at home; (5) don't take my 18-year-old into the Army.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Supreme Commander in Japan, is not resigning and is not being encouraged to resign despite recurrent stories to the contrary. Stories aimed at the General are reported to be fed out by British sources interested in getting U. S. confused about the situation in Korea.

We have lived and loved together. Through many changing years; We have shared each other's gladness And wept each other's tears.

LET IT SNOW

Who would think that snow would be dangerous? It is, however, if it is used as some people have been using it. When God created snow, I'm sure He didn't intend for it to be used as a weapon. Many people have been badly hurt by snow that has been packed tight and hurled at them. Many establishments have been damaged by snowballs that have missed their original mark. There have been a few of these cases in Canyon. Revenge is not our objective when we are having a playful snowball fight, but still, accidents will happen no matter how careful we are.

It looks like we might be in for a few more snows so why don't we just "let it snow."

Because pet peeve women are Jim Owens' get peeve, his ideal person is Mr. Ray Schultz. His hobby is attending movies in which John Wayne, or Randolph Scott, and June Allyson are playing. Jim has always lived in Canyon and goes to the Presbyterian Church. His favorite author is Robert Louis Stevenson. His favorite subject is boys athletics and his favorite teacher is Mrs. Cecil Simms who inspires him in his ambition to pass in all subjects.

Teddy Howell who goes to the Baptist Church is five feet tall, wears size five shoe, and has brown hair and eyes. Mrs. Cecil Simms, her favorite teacher, teaches her favorite subject, English, and gives her plenty to do. Teddy's ideal person is Mrs. Boyce Springer; her ambition is to graduate from college and her hobby is collecting what-knots.

Eagle "A" Marks Up Two Wins

In Amarillo Tuesday night, January 30, the Canyon Eagle "A" squad defeated Price College by a score of 64-44.

Scoring was fairly even during the first half, the Eagles leading by only eight points. At half-time the score read 34-28.

During the second half the squad was led to victory by the able scoring of Bob Busted, who was high-point man with 19 tallies. Billy Norton, who scored 17 points, was a close contender for top honors.

The Price College "B" team defeated Canyon's "B" 40-38, the half-time score reading 20-14 in favor of Price College. High-point men for Canyon were Bobby Hardaway and Jim Marshall, with seven points each.

Friday night, February 2, in Happy, both "A" and "B" Eagle teams defeated the Cowboys by good margins.

The "A" team has 18 wins to its credit; three losses.

In assembly Tuesday morning, January 30, a forum on college life was held by a group of high school and college students. It was under the direction of Dr. B. F. Pronabarger and Mr. Cecil Boykin.

Miss Bobby Tucker and Mr. Truman Cleveland, W. T. S. C. speech students, are the directors of the 1951 senior play.

Try-outs for parts are scheduled for February 9 and 12 with the first rehearsal on the 14. The performance dates have been set for the 29 and 30 of March.

Marsha seems to be the favorite by-word of Jerry Williams. Could it be because of the new routine worked up by him and Barbara McDougal for the amateur show?

"That's for me," "Me too" cried the journalism students upon entering the refreshment room of the Globe-News building. Maybe the students ate too much but I overheard some one say, "You mean all these sandwiches and cookies are not for us?"

Snow! Snow! All we ever get around this school is snow and cold. Pretty nice isn't it. Lots of fun too, that is if you can duck faster than a snowball.

As a follow up to the story, "If you no wanna read," Cal is going to add another hint to the name of the play. The first word in the play is "Operator!" and the last word is "know" mingled with soft dreamy music. Guessed the name yet? Stay tuned into this paper for future hints to "Name the Mystery Play Contest."

Seems to me ole Kilroy just died away because that new medicine Hadaool has stepped right into all the latest jokes around Canyon High. Say that reminds me, have you heard the one about . . . sorry kids ran out of space, see ya next week.

Journalists Tour News-Globe

Ten spunky Journalism enthusiasts braved biting cold and blustering snowstorm January 31 and journeyed to Amarillo to tour the ultra-modern new Globe-News Building. After slowly creeping over icy roads our shivering group, including eight Eagle's Tale Staff members, Miss Alice Payne, and our bus driver, spent three fascinating and informative hours inspecting the beautiful and spacious printing plant. Guided by well-known journalist, Jerry Malin, we got the inside dope on how news is compiled and the paper put to bed and how each member of the huge staff does his specialized part.

We were introduced to many prominent persons in the newspaper world including Gene Howe, owner of the concern, and Wes Izzard, editor-publisher, and toured their plush offices. From there we saw individual departments such as circulation, photography, advertising, and art. Following every stage of newspaper printing from beginning to end our tour was highlighted by witnessing the unbelievably enormous press in action, producing at the rate of 42,000 papers per hour.

After three hours of climbing and wandering our group feasted on all the punch, sandwiches, and cookies it could eat and drink before starting the cold journey home.

From this trip your paper staff found deep appreciation for the work of those struggling day and night to meet each new deadline for the paper; the tireless workmen, reporters, managers, and editors.

Journalists Sit in Director's Chairs

Not everyone visiting the new Globe-News building enjoyed the high honor which the Journalism staff did.

We sat in the director's chairs. And while relaxing thusly, we listened to Mr. Jerry Malin's very interesting answers to our barrage of questions. We asked questions on business, private lives, historical backgrounds, and traditions; we asked strange questions, sensible questions, and questions which would seem irrational to outsiders.

Help Keep Canyon Clean!

Canyon Juniors Take Price, 40-32

The Canyon Junior High team overran the Price junior quintet 40-32 in a closely played game Tuesday, January 30, in the Canyon gym.

The Canyon team was trailing by the score of 26-20 at the half. During the third and fourth periods the home team made 20 points to Price's 6 to make the score 40-32.

High point honors went to Ed Money who hit the bucket for 17 points. Tyskivage led the losing side with 12 points.

Winning this game gave Canyon a record of 4-2 in conference games. They have lost only to Pampa and Sam Houston.

A scheduled game Thursday, February 1, was called off because of the bad weather conditions.

22 Boys Issued Letter Jackets

On January 29, twenty-two boys were issued letter jackets for participation in football and basketball during the 1950-51 school year. Yearbook Takes Planning, Work

"Soaring Wings," the book that holds so many wonderful high school memories for most of us, is no accident. It is completed only after careful planning and hours of work by the yearbook staff and sponsor.

The "Soaring Wings" staff for 1950 is made up of eight members. Editor is Linda Dooley; assistant editor, Betty McGehee; art editor, Florence Coffee; assistant art editor, Dixie Whitman; business manager, Richmond Payne; photographer, James Cundiff; photographic supervisor, Geneva Gressett; and copy editor is Teddy Bynum. Mrs. Nora Gilmore sponsors the group.

Each member of the staff has his or her own individual job, but they all work together at such things as soliciting subscribers, soliciting ads, being continually on the lookout for snapshots for the "high-light" section, and for different arrangements for pages in the annual. Each member spends as many as thirty hours of work on the yearbook, and is graded on the work he or she does.

The person or group of persons Massey received jackets without letters.

to whom the annual is to be dedicated is voted upon by the staff and kept a secret until the annual is published. In choosing the theme, which is also kept secret, each person on the staff presents his idea for the theme. The members as a whole decide upon the best one.

Deadlines are very important in the composition of a year book. There are four deadlines, December 20, January 31, February 28, and March 31. One-fourth of the one hundred and twenty pages, which complete the annual, are to be finished by each of these deadlines.

An individual subscription for an annual is $3.50. The deadline on subscriptions is February 8. The net price of the year books comes to approximately $1,200, and the extra money needed to pay for them is provided through advertisements of the different business firms in Canyon.

Dalhart Downs Eaglettes 43-24

Dalhart Wolverines defeated the Canyon Eaglettes Friday, February 2, in the grade school gym. The final score was 43-24.

The girls from Dalhart got off to a good start scoring 12 to Canyon's 7 during the first quarter. At the half the Wolverines had a 9-point lead.

Buffaloes Take Two of Three Games on Trip

The Buffalo basketball team won two of the three games played on the western swing this week.

Arizona University at Tucson still holds a clear lead in the Border Conference, defeating the Buffs Friday night by a score of 74 to 48. Arizona has been conference champions the past two years and is slated to win again in this tough circuit.

The Buffs whipped Tempe Saturday night by a score of 62 to 47. This was one of the most spectacular games of the season. The Buffs have only small squad of basketball players, and by the time the four minute period was reached, only four Buffs remained eligible for play. The four men froze the ball, expertly keeping the ball away from the Tempe lads. This was the first time in two years that Tempe had been defeated on their home floor.

The squad returned to Flagstaff Monday night, defeating that team by a score of 72 to 38. The Buffs jumped into the lead and was never threatened during the game.

The Buffs will play Tempe in Burton gym on Feb. 13 and Flagstaff on Feb. 15.

After meeting Texas Tech at Lubbock on Feb. 19, the Buffs will play their last home game this season against Texas Western on Feb. 21.

Leave Korea Is Cry of the Big Swede in Canyon

When Patrick Henry pushed his old cast iron spectacles back on the top of his head and shouted for liberty or death, he little dreamed that the time was coming when he would be asking for more liberty than we would be able to pay for in a thousand years. Yes, we want liberty, but do not want it bad enough to sacrifice our country and our present civilization.

The worst enemy we have at this time is internal strife. Under present conditions if we were called upon to fight, we would just about be able to whip a sick woman.

Let's all stand together as one man; get ready for the worst, but exhaust every effort to see that it doesn't come.

We have everything to lose and nothing to gain by staying in Korea. Let's get out and let them have it. Like the Irishman's polecat, if left alone they will stink themselves to death in a very short time.

Sincerely,
The Big Swede.
(Name withheld by request).

LONG WAY AROUND

"I say," said a bumptious individual to a man standing at the street corner, "just tell me how I can get to Blang Street."

"Well," was the reply, "take the third turning on the left, first to the right, second to the right again, fourth to left, first to right, fifth to left, cut across a square, pass through a crescent, take the second to the left, and you'll get it."

The stranger jotted down the particulars and followed the instructions given. After three quarters of an hour he was startled to arrive at the place where he had asked the question, and to see the same man still standing on the corner.

"Why did you direct me wrongly?" he demanded angrily. "You asked for Blank Street, didn't you?"

"Yes."
"Well, then, I directed you right. This is Blank Street."

Family Hobbies Are Given in Series of AAUW Articles

The Canyon Branch of the A. A. U. W. last week began a series of stories about family hobbies; the Roger Wheelers were featured with their photography, sewing, and carved boxes, which are on display at the Canyon News office.

Music, too, is a hobby that families share and enjoy. As a case in point the Wilson family, Donna, Bill, daughter Judy, and son Ricky, is presented. Donna sings soprano, directs the choir at the Presbyterian Church, and plays the violin in the College Orchestra. Bill sings tenor in the choir, directs singing at Rotary, sings in the Rotary Quartet, does twirling, and concert whistling. Judy sings in the Junior Choir at the church, and shows definite musical interests.

Mrs. Wilson's interest in music goes back to high school and college days. At Whittenberg College in Ohio she played in the orchestra and sang in the A Cappella Choir. Later while teaching she was a member of the Civic Theatre Orchestra, evening chorus, and was the first secretary of the Evening Fortnightly Music Club of Springfield, Ohio.

Mr. Wilson was in the chorus at Earlham College in Indiana, studied voice, and was drum major of the College Band. Later he taught twirling, and the present drum major of the Ohio State band is one of his pupils.

Judy learned to play the song flute at five, and at six started piano lessons. Evenings before bedtime she often plays the piano accompaniment for her mother's violin.

On trips in the car they enjoy three part singing. Ricky is just a toddler, but he probably will soon be an active member of the Wilson musical quartet.

Boy Scouts Mark 41st Anniversary

Official poster marking the 41st birthday.

President Truman will greet 12 outstanding Boy Scouts in the White House on Feb. 6 opening the 41st anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America. Boy Scout Week will be observed Feb. 6 to 12 in every part of the nation by more than 2,750,000 boys and adult leaders. "Strengthen Liberty" is the birthday theme.

At "birthday parties" during Boy Scout Week throughout the nation each member will pledge himself to the Scout Oath or Promise. In each community representatives of the churches, schools, government and business will observe the anniversary with their Scouts. At Unit "open house" parties, parents, relatives and members of the chartering institutions will hear a review of the year's program features, service projects and membership gains.

During Boy Scout Week members of the organization will develop window displays and demonstrations on civil defense and conservation. Each member will inspect his home to make certain no hazards exist. Surprise mobilizations will test Scout efficiency should emergencies arise.

Since 1910 more than 17,500,000 boys and men have been identified with the Boy Scouts of America.

Researcher Enters Thunderclouds to Learn About Storms

BOSTON, Mass.—Joachim Kuettner of the air force's Cambridge research laboratories recently completed three years of study of thun-derclouds. He found a number of strange and dangerous phenomena.
Curious things happen inside thun-derclouds, he reported. Updrafts and downdrafts, formation of solid precipitation (freezing of super-cooled water droplets), formation of different kinds of electrical charges in different parts of thunderstorm
"cells".

Kuettner conducted his research in the observatory atop the 10,000 foot Zugspitze, Germany's highest mountain, which pokes its summit right into the base of thunderclouds.
He discovered that a local thunderstorm can be bigger than you think—up to 60 miles across.

It is made up of individual cells which may be several miles wide and high. The cell, in turn, is subdivided into other cells, of maybe a tenth the size of the mature cell.
The mature cell extends upward to a height of five or six miles where a circus anvil floats (that's a white, filmy, lofty layer of cloud made of ice crystals).

It extends through various temperatures ranging from above freezing at its base to bitter zero reading far aloft.

There are generally three main electrical charges, a local positive charge in the base, a negative charge in the lower part, and a positive charge in the upper part.
"The negative charge center is apparently the starting point of most lightning," Kuettner said.

Wife Left in Family Car Waits for Thirteen Hours

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah—Axel Lindholm of Scofield, Utah, will tell you that a woman can be patient. Lindholm parked his automobile in downtown Salt Lake City and his wife said she'd wait while he got a snack. He forgot where he parked the car.

After an all-night search he asked police to help. They soon located the automobile and Mrs.
Lindholm, who was sitting patiently in the spot where her husband had left her 13 hours before.

"I knew he'd come back," she said.

Alaska's Farmers May Hitch Wagons to Moose and Yaks

COLLEGE, Alaska—According to the Soviet magazine "Soviet Ar-ctics", long legged moose and shaggy, oxlike yaks have been domesticated in Siberia.

The article said in part:
"Notwithstanding their gigantic size (males sometimes attain eight feet in height) moose are extremely quick maturing . . . are easily tamed and readily become accustomed to harness. After being tamed from an early age, they do not become wild later even if allowed full freedom in pasture."

The article also told of tests made with a female moose which pulled approximately two and a half tons at a speed of 4.3 miles an hour, carried a 265 pound pack at the same speed through broken country and "with an excellent, bold trot, covered the distance of one mile in 1 minute and 43 seconds (a speed of about 35 miles per hour)."

Farmers in Alaska may try some experiments with the moose as a result of the article. If true, it would certainly solve one of their many problems.

They could give up using horses,
for which feed must be imported, and instead tame moose—which are plentiful in the agricultural portions of the northland.

Floor too Hard, So Tame Deer Takes Over Bedroom

COWICHAN, British Columbia—
A four-year-old deer named Yellow Horn is getting too domesticated for Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Boyd. For one thing, he's sleeping in their bed most of the time.

The buck moved in on the Boyd family. He started sleeping on the veranda. He didn't take too well to the hard floor and later sneaked into the house at every chance and snuggled down on a bed.

The Boyd family finally found it necessary to keep their doors locked all the time. Yellow Horn was deserted as a fawn on the shores of Cowichan Lake. Loggers adopted him and painted the horns yellow for easy identification by hunters.
Thus the name.

Egyptian Prince's Tomb, 2,600 Years Old, Found

LUXOR, Egypt—The 2,600 year old tomb of ancient Egyptian high priest Mentemhet, also known as the prince of Thebes, has been found, Egyptian archeologists report.

M. Zacharia Ghoneim reported the discovery and said the find included statues, offering tables, sarcophagi and bas reliefs in the rare saitic style. In addition, he said, his team of archeologists hope to find other tombs since the Mentemhet tomb indicated that the people of that time buried their dead carefully.

The discovery was made three years ago. Although marked by a tall pylon of mud bricks, there had never been any digging on the site until Ghoneim's party went to work.

"Rocky Mountain blizzards couldn't stop me!"

says JACK W. SEEFELD
3030 Vrain St. Denver 12, Colorado

"The two winters I tested new Conoco Super Motor Oil—as one of a group picked to prove its winter wear-fighting ability—we had the worst weather in years. Blizzards came in on top of blizzards.
The temperature went to the bottom and stayed there.

"BUT MY CAR ACTED LIKE IT THOUGHT IT WAS JULY!
With new Conoco Super that car performed better than it ever had. At the end of the test, with proper drains and regular care, gasoline mileage was practically as good as at the beginning."

After a total of 386,422 miles, logged by Mr. Seefeld and other winter test drivers, Conoco engineers found no wear of any consequence! Analysis of drains showed this great oil actually stopped the dangerous accumulation of free water and acids, chief causes of winter wear. This test proved that new Conoco Super Motor Oil, with OIL-PLATING, fights off rust, corrosion and sludge. So, change to Conoco Super, now.
